

Game Farm Open Day at Quidenham & Hargham Estates Shoot, 4 June 2009

We hope those of you who attended the recent Open Day found it interesting and enjoyable. Please see additional photographs starting on page two.

Milestone achieved this week as we finally finished construction of the last of the sheds. The birds are looking great. We have released several batches across all three shoots so we have a considerable number out in the field already and a large number in the final release pens ready to go shortly.

We are continuing to take on staff: new apprentice, Brad, has joined us at Narford alongside the full time Keeper, Luke. The Under Keeper at Great Hockham, Liam, is continuing to learn from Clifford and is now snaring several foxes a week on his own account. There are now four full time staff at Quidenham & Hargham (supported by what some days seems like an army of part timers and volunteers!) All being well, we should be in terrific form for some really good early partridge days in September and some great pheasant days at the start of October.

Please see our websites (click on shoot name to go directly to the site):

Great Hockham

Quidenham & Hargham

Narford – site under construction!

We do still have some availability for the coming season. If you would like any more information about shooting or know any friends and family who might, please contact me on 07802 546175 or at philip.milburn@btconnect.com.

